ATLA FOUNDATIONS: ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

Global warming got you down? Let's talk about it. While we're at it, let's also talk about ecosystems, biodiversity, energy consumption/resources, and pollution. Intuitively, you might know all these factors contribute to climate change and environmental sustainability. In this course, we'll take a deeper dive into environmental interconnectedness, not only to give you a leg up for the upcoming year but also to equip you with the knowledge to mindfully interact with our environment. Let's work together to save our planet!
